Linux
Very Good

I wrote my first program when I was 6 years old.
Since then I have never abandoned computer science even though I chose a different career path.
in the last few months I have dealt with a study path concerning the backend development in the java-spring environment.
Other skills in web development are the knowledge of the Dart language and the Flutter framework and the use of database systems such as MariaDB and MongoDB

Accomplishments

- Supervised team of 4 staff members in Develhope course.
